Famed Opera Star To Present Concert Thursday, April 13

Lauritz Melchior, who will sing at the Men's Gym April 13, is outstanding in not one but five separate careers—opera, concert, motion pictures, radio, and records. He has been proclaimed by critics as "the most fabulous figure in contemporary music."

Since making his debut at the Metropolitan Opera House in 1926, Mr. Melchior has attained a virtual monopoly in the field of Wagnerian opera, holding the world's record for number of performances. The celebrated tenor has sung 220 Tristans, 177 Walkures, 144 Tannhausers, 128 Siegfrieds, 107 Goetterdaemmerungs, 104 Lohengrins, and 80 Parsifals.

A veteran concert tourer, Mr. Melchior has established a record by singing in 56 different cities, some as many as 500 miles apart, in 56 days.

His fourth motion picture in the same number of years, "Luxury Liner," was the latest released. Under contract to M-G-M since 1946 he previously appeared in "Thrill of a Romance," "Two Sisters From Boston," and "This Time for Keeps."

He has appeared frequently on radio and television both in classical, as with the NBC Symphony and "Carnegie Hall" and in comedy roles with Edgar Bergen, Jimmy Durante, Frank Sinatra, Fred Allen, and Milton Berle.

A sportsman as well as a singer, Mr. Melchior recently returned from a 6-week hunting trip in Kenya Colony, South Africa, where his party bagged more than 200 specimens of 38 different species of game. The tenor's prize trophy was a 500-pound black-maned lion which was 55 feet from him when the first shot was fired.

In his spare time Mr. Melchior augments his famous stamp collection which includes the late President Roosevelt's entire Danish collection. As a struggling young baritone in Denmark, he had to pawn his collection to pay for voice lessons.

During these early days he passed one of the severest of tests when he contracted to sing at a funeral. In the song he selected was the line, "the angel touched your forehead with a palm leaf," opportunity. "I don't mean the government should control music," Mr. Melchior asserts, "but it should help it along and give it a boost whenever necessary."

Approximately 1,500 student general admission tickets and 50 student reserve tickets at 60 cents will be available at the ticket booth before the Main Aud. Tuesday and Wednesday, April 11 and 12, 10-12 a.m. and 2-4 p.m.

Mr. Melchior is being accompanied by his wife and Mr. Leonard Eisner, accompanist.

Senate Rules Ban Of Ineligible Votes

Ineligible students attempting to vote in any class election will be disqualified from casting their ballots in further class elections during the year, according to action of Student Senate Monday evening.

Activity cards will be spot-checked by poll personnel against a class listing of all students to determine voting eligibility.

Additional Senate business Monday included approval of a by-law concerning filing of constitutions of campus organizations with Senate, announcement that petitions for candidates for approaching Senate elections will soon be available, elections announcements, approval of a new committee appointee, and various committee reports.

The action to be taken to prevent students voting in class elections for which they are ineligible resulted from a request by Don Herit, Election Committee chairman, for Senate consideration on the matter after he received several student complaints. Ac cards will be marked "disqualified" when violations of the ruling occur.

A by-law granting authority to Senate to file constitutions of each campus organization, with the exception of national fraternity constitutions filed with Inter-Fraternity and Panhellenic Councils, was approved.

Petitions for candidates for Student Senate elections to determine next year's officers can be secured

Jones, Klever Lead Frosh

A total of 411 freshmen voted for the candidates out of the 1,387 freshmen eligible to vote.

Easter Thought...

With the coming of Easter another milestone is reached in the Christian year. Of late, though, this time does not seem to have the significance for the average person that such an occasion should have. Too much seems to be placed on material objects giving the season an ugly dollar value rather than a time of meditation and self-evaluation.

Nineteen hundred and some twenty-one years ago the Son of God was crucified, but too many of the rays of truth and good will which he spread seem to be blocked off by the greediness of today's society.

A person does not have to look far in today's world to discover a place where the principles taught by Christ could not be applied to the resulting betterment of all. Too often these ideas are shunned because their value is too long ranged for the average short-sighted individual to appreciate.

We feel that this year everyone should pause for a moment before the coming season to gain a true concept of the meaning of Easter, and of the Man, who said during His time of pain, "Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do."

Critics Overnight...

Last Thursday Miss Margaret Truman sang in Bowling Green as part of the 1949-50 Artists' Series of the University. Miss Truman sang in the Men's Gym before a crowd that was larger than for either Burl Ives or Charles Laughton. The majority of the faculty, students, and townspeople, were there not to listen to the music which the young lady presented during her program but rather they were there for the curiosity of seeing what Miss Truman looked like and what she wore.

We are not condemning these people for going to the concert just for the sake of curiosity because we were guilty also but what we can't understand is how all these spectators suddenly became professional music critics overnight. After the concert everyone was giving free criticisms, both pro and con, of the concert when at least 99 percent of the people in the audience don't know anymore about classical music than they do about the philosophy of Schopenhauer.

We will not attempt to judge Miss Truman's singing as we do not feel qualified to do so. We only know what we have heard from those persons who are qualified to discuss the subject with intelligence. As for the remaining grass-root critics, we only listen to them because we have been taught to be polite.

False Publicity...

Last Friday night students of the University who attended the Spook Show at the Cla-Zel Theatre saw the results of one of the most misleading publicity campaigns put on in this area for some time. The show was far from what it was claimed to be since they only displayed their famed Frankenstein monster for but a few minutes. Also many of the supposed "jokes" pulled by the master of ceremonies during the first performance, which was attended by many young children, were of too burlesquian a nature to be considered in good taste.

In realizing that the student body at the University as a group is one of the largest revenue producers for the theater management, and that since there is a limited number of theaters for the students to attend, it seems to us that a little discretion should be used first in choosing the type of shows, and second in giving out fair and truthful publicity about them.

It should be realized that in past history many proprietors in other enterprises have awakened suddenly to the realization that a supposed sewed-up market had suddenly burst a seam, leaving the owners holding a very empty and fruitless sack. We believe that the management of the Cla-Zel and Lyric is too progressive to ever be confronted by such a situation, and we hope that they realize the mistake of last week's promotion.

Modern Dance Play Appeals To People

A large and responsive audience gave the curtain-ringer a real workout Saturday night as "The Evening Spectator" closed out a 2-night stand in the Main Aud.

Presenting all the variety of the front page in 14 newspaper sketches, the combined dance clubs, directed by Miss Joan Brodie and Mrs. Margaret Miller, and Commentator Jean MacGlahtery, gave observers plenty to talk about.

Jeanne Gray, complemented by a 10-girl dancing ensemble, lent an inspired "Summertime" to the page 1 weather report, and any threat of falling temperatures was there in dispelled.

"Pursuit," the much-read cop and robber story, had Elaine Fruchey, murdered, perishing beautifully. This number, followed by "The Fleet's In," with Edward Plants as an oh-so-nimble drunken sailor, set the type for column 5, a hectic "Atomic Age" story which visibly exhausted each and every cash customer.

Turning to the paper's second section, containing the sports column, movie news, comics, and reams of advertising copy, readers got their biggest kicks.

KAMPUS KOPP "NICE ADVICE"

Letters To The Editor...

In accord with the policy of this paper, opinions expressed in letters to the editor are not necessarily those of the BEE GEE NEWS.

Dear Editors;

Your recent editorial on my election ethics was an attack upon me and obtained without first getting the facts. If I am in the wrong and purposely broke a rule to benefit a candidate I would be the first one to say so. I did not purposely break an election rule, rather it was my incorrect interpretation of campus election procedure. Campaigning, in the sense of the word, means to me the act of circulating or presenting pamphlets, circulars, or other material to the public. Logically the Nest was closed at 10 o'clock and cleared of students at this time, since we had already obtained permission from the management of the Nest, and since the Nest was closed to the public I did not feel that we were infringing upon the set rules since the material would not be seen until the Nest opened the following morning.

To further prove my point, the campaign committee was instructed not to put posters or cards in any building regardless of time, in fact, I did not even know that posters were permitted in either the Well or the Gate Theatre, and therefore we had none. I am simply trying to prove that it was not an intentional misdemeanor on my part or on the part of my committee. Furthermore you stated in the editorial that I said, "I was trying to get in ahead of the field." You evidently slanted this to meet your purpose. I think that you will find that my complete statement was as follows: "We did not feel that we were breaking a rule but rather considered it quick thinking on a point that would enable us to get advantage in the field."

It was most unfortunate that such a thing had to happen, especially since it involved two fine fellows, Bill Baddaker and Don Hilliker. Perhaps this experience will not only act as an example to me but also to any candidates running for office in the future. You know we live and learn. Furthermore I admire the election committee for their stand and would probably have done the same under the circumstances.

Yours for a better BGSU,
Jack Taylor

ED. NOTE: In getting the facts for our editorial we talked to three members of the Student Senate, one of which was the chairman of the elections committee, and also to Mr. Taylor himself. We said nothing in the editorial about the two candidates; only about the campaign manager and his thwarted attempts at being a politician.

Dear Sir:

I should like to suggest to the powers that be on this campus that something be done about the telephone situation. As the situation exists today it is practically impossible to get a free line to any of the dormitories within a half hour after the first try. A good part of this trouble lies in the fact that there are not enough telephones in any of the dormitories.

Often curfew has gone into effect once you do get a ringing signal. In such cases no one usually troubles to even answer the phone. Suppose the caller was making an emergency call, what would happen? The phone would probably ring all night and no one would even be courteous enough to answer and find out who was calling and either explain the rules or go get the party if it was an emergency.

Inasmuch as every dorm on campus is in need of more telephone facilities, why don't the students limit their conversations? This is a relatively small college and there can be no reason why an individual can't see their party in person if they want to.

A little more courtesy and a few more telephones, and it just might be possible to get your party once in a while.

Fraternities Convert Attics Into Improved Study Rooms

TWO FRATERNITY men take advantage of the new study rooms being done at Fraternity Row.

Ask the men on Fraternity Row about their third floor activities, converting their attics to study rooms. An attempt to produce conducive atmosphere for study and to boost point averages is the motivating force.

Last fall the Phi Deltas decided that their point average as a group needed some improvement. After sending out a call for all men in the fraternity who considered themselves carpenters, they retired to the attic where they proceeded to lay flooring, erect siding, and install lighting.

At present, there are accommodations for eighteen men at small individual desks with study lamps, in an atmosphere of blue fiber-board walls with cedar trim. No radios are permitted and the smoking lamp is never lit. The Phi Deltas now have one of the most pleasant study rooms on campus.

When word got around that the Phi Deltas had a study room, other fraternities felt that they might do well to follow the example. The Deltas have started one to be finished in knotty pine and linoleum block floor. Their furnishings are to be small wooden desks and red chairs.

The Sigma Chis are in the process of getting materials and work started. They expect to have the work completed in about a month. So, mothers, if you want your boy to be on the Dean's List, send him to BGSU.

All entries must be sent through the regular mail (not campus mail) in a sealed envelope that contains the submitted name for the Clinic, the contestant's name, and address. Only one entry per person will be accepted. Send your entry to Dottie Stover, Alpha Gamma Delta house.

Read It And Weep...

by BILL DAY

Bowling Green's two-for-one vacation starts tomorrow. By two-for-one, I mean that all students get both an Easter vacation and a spring vacation at the same time and both are to be enjoyed in the space of four days. This idea is borrowed from the economic system of our country which continually offers the popular one-cent sale. Instead of paying 24 cents for a box of soap chips, the consumer pays 25 cents and gets not only a box of soap chips but a tube of tooth paste also.

A friend of mine said that this idea can also be compared to a double-header baseball game. For the price of one game the fan can see two. Whether these have been good comparisons or not, it is at least novel that they have been applied to the field of education. Not every school in the country can make this statement.

Since this is the last vacation of the year, most students will attempt to crowd the most possible into these four festive days. I have heard that some coeds are so eager to get in a car again that they are going to sleep in the family automobile during the entire vacation.

Maggie really packed them in last week for her Artists' Series performance. I joined the maddening throng and attended mostly for curiosity. My companion to the affair was a little late so I was so far back that a pair of field glasses would have greatly aided my vision.

Most persons with whom I talked who know something about music were of the opinion that Miss Truman left much to be desired in her singing. I thought her best number was Die Forelle, The Trout, by Schubert. Other than that I wasn't too impressed by her voice although her poise on the stage was excellent.

For the appearance of Miss Truman, the Artists' Series paid out $1,500. Although the crowd was large, the student body as a whole seemed to think that something better could have been secured for the same price.

The majority of students are definitely in favor of the Varsity Club's idea of having a concert by a big name band. I believe this would appeal more to the taste of students than a concert such as the one presented last week. That the Artists' Series Committee is attempting to raise the cultural standing with its programs is very commendable. With that idea in mind, I think the Committee could have done better than the Truman concert.

TV Opportunities Listed In Pamphlet

Students interested in radio and television may obtain a pamphlet entitled "Employment Outlook in Radio and Television and Broadcasting Occupations" in Dean H. K. McFall's office.

The pamphlet gives the outlook, earnings, occupations, and employees in broadcasting separately for each of the 48 states. For each state also, a map of television stations is included.

In October 1947 this field claimed 29,300 full time employees and 7,000 part time employees.

Shoes Important In Milady's Dress

By CAROL CARSTEN

Since walking is so popular on the Bowling Green campus, shoes will be a main item in the spring wardrobe. For comfortable walking, the cool straw sandal will be popular followed closely by patents, soft leathers, linens, and other cloths. These textures are suitable for any wardrobe.

One of the new spring shades for shoes is "tangerine," a red-orange, which can be worn with navy blue, black, and white afternoon dresses. Another popular hue appropriate for sportswear is the light, light tan. The color blends with brown, green, blue, and yellow.

The versatile multi-color shoes are returning. These "rainbow" eye-catchers are liked because they can be worn with many dresses, suits, and coats. But, remember, the "rainbow" shoes are best shown off when worn with solid-color clothes.

The style of the spring shoe has not been changed. The open toe, open heel, and ankle strap are still popular. For variety, contrasting textures, buttons, and buckles are used. Personal preference will determine the size of the heel which varies from the sandal flat to the spike heel.

"The Noon Whistle"

by NANCY NOON

SHE'S HARRY'S LITTLE GIRL

Margaret Truman's fresh and sparkling personality made a great hit with the 20 or so reporters and photographers who attended the press conference the day before her concert.

She arrived right on the dot, shook hands with each person present, and asked cheerfully, "What shall we do first—take pictures or talk?" The photographers won, but were interrupted for a few minutes when her father called from Key West.

She told reporters that she likes the music of Tommy Dorsey very much. She loves Beethoven and can't stand Shostakovich. In her spare time she likes to read historical novels and mystery books, and is an amateur photographer.

Seven o'clock, she feels, is an "ungodly hour" for her father's morning walks, and she never accompanies him "if I can avoid it." She inherited only one superstition from him—she won't hand the salt shaker or accept it from anyone else's hand, as this will supposedly cause an argument between the two persons involved.

Harry Schulke's suggestion for an appropriate question to ask at the press conference was, "And what does your father do?"

A member of the music faculty, consulted for his professional opinion following the concert, declared, "Well, you can always say she has lovely shoulders."

TEN PINS

Pinned recently were Phyllis Folts and Carl Huston, Isabelle Mann and John Burger, Edna Boedeker and Roger Bennett, Lois Cannon and Bob Alberts, Helene Nitzsche and Randy Enger, and Carol Bender and Jim Leach.

Also Sally Seith and Hal Strather, Ruth Azawa and Don Harms, and Betty White and LeRoy Heeg.

Who Asked You?

Last week, two freshman class presidential candidates put up campaign literature in the Nest 45 minutes before the 12 p.m. deadline. As a consequence, both men were disqualified from the running, by the Student Senate. The question of the week is, was the Senate justified in its action.

Elaine Fruchey, a senior from Napoleon, O., believes that the whole thing is ridiculous. "Rather than make the two candidates martyrs, they should have been allowed to run. Had the information been brought out in the open, the students themselves would have indicated their objections by casting negative votes. This would have been a better solution," she believes.

"What is this freshman class coming to?" questioned Liz Clark, St. Mary's, O., junior, with a smile. She believes that Senate took the right action. "Jack Taylor, president of the freshman class, who was their publicity manager, should have known better," she concluded.

Liz Clark John Burger

John Burger, Dayton, O., junior, agrees with the rest, that they should not be permitted to run. "Even though they were only 45 minutes early, they set up rules that should not be broken."

Elaine Fruchey Ralph Villers

"They took a gamble and lost," said Ralph Villers, Steubenville, O., senior. "If they had gotten away with it, the chance might have been worth taking, but they lost, so they must suffer the consequences."

Faculty Movie

An Italian language movie, "Revenge," will be shown tonight for members of the Faculty Subscription Movies series in the Main Auditorium at 7:30. Students wishing to attend may contact members of the faculty who belong to the series. Each member may take two guests.

with CHUCK ALBURY

When it was announced in the NEWS last Nov. 23 that there would be 2,200 tickets available to the student body for Bowling Green home basketball games, there were more than a few cries of displeasure heard around here. Now, it is interesting to learn from the athletic department that an average of only 1,244 students attended the eleven nights that the Falcons played in Men's Gym. On only one occasion, the opener with Tiffin and Hillsdale, were all 2,200 student tickets sold.

The 1949-50 home gross ($6,496.76 after federal tax was taken out) probably didn't pay the guarantees to the visiting teams, let alone the fees to officials, labor to set up and take down the bleachers, light bills, a share of equipment, and all the other bills. Ask Athletic Director Harold Anderson sometime how much a basketball costs, or the price of a decent pair of basketball shoes these days. Ask him what the charge is to outfit a team so they look presentable in the big arenas where the Falcons must play if they are to show any profit at all.

It all boils down to this. Home basketball is red ink on the ledger under the present 10 cent student plan. The student activity fee must be drawn on heavily to make up the difference. The Falcons have to go on the road to make any money and when you play for a percentage of the gate, as BG does in the big arenas, you must be a winner to pack the fans in. Maybe next year the memory of a 19-11 record and the loss of Chuck Share won't have the magic that the 1948-49 mark of 24-7 and a third place berth in the NIT had this past campaign. We may be just another visiting team, and paid accordingly.

This column today is the presentation of a problem, rather than a tirade at students for not coming out and supporting the team. The athletic dept. lost a possible $8,000 plus on home basketball games last season because an average of 956 seats were held back for the student body, and then not used. If the public had known a reasonable time in advance that these seats would be available, they probably would have bought all, or most of them.

The athletic dept. is caught squarely in the middle so long as basketball must be played in a gym that holds less than 3,000 when jammed to the rafters. If they continue to set aside the present number of student seats, they are left holding quite a share of them unsold and as a result must dip deeper into their part of the activity fee to pay the difference. On the other hand, if fewer student seats are allotted, the beefing here would drown out a small tornado.

We know money doesn't grow on trees. From where we sit on the sidelines it seems Bowling Green athletic money can come from only three places: (1) a bigger gym, (2) a bigger activity fee, or (3) a bigger student admission price.

Wildmen, Oilers Clashed Tuesday For Intramural Basketball Title

Two Infields Readied Fos Baseball Opener

By GENE VEERKA

Baseball coaches have been confronted with many problems but this week the Falcon braintrust will have to face one of the most unusual of them all. Sometime before the season opener, just a little over a week away, they must get two infields into shape.

With the decision to move the infield and backstop into what was to have been left field of the new diamond, the Falcon ground crew will have to skim the turf from the field and hope to roll and smooth it into shape for the initial game, provided that weather conditions permit.

The new Falcon diamond should be a delight to pitchers. Both foul poles will be posted 320 feet away along the lines. There are no plans for a fence around it yet and outfielders will have plenty of space to roam and haul down drives that might otherwise be tagged for extra bases.

Coach Warren Steller's other infield problem is just as acute, if not more so. Ralph Weber is the only varsity infielder back and the positions are wide open.

Bob Radigan and Bill Whitehead head the battle for first base while Ray Haegstrom figures in the running as an alternate pitcher and first sacker. Third and shortstop are waiting to be filled by the best of a host of young players.

The catching department seems to be well set with the return of Gordon Williams, John Jeremiah, and Tom Burton. Jeremiah played with the Falcons in 1948 when they had one of their more impressive teams.

Howie Tesnow, Ed Prochaska, Glenn Honner, and John Grill will make up an outer garden patrol which should be fairly strong this year. Lou Cross and Haegstrom will be the veterans of a promising group of hurlers.

A BARTLETTGRAM— Tom Bartlett Says:

One of the duties of the Ohio Department of Insurance is to regulate insurance rates, and one of the most frequent complaints the Department of Insurance receives is that automobile insurance rates are too high. . . . Most people realize, of course, that it is the accident record of our drivers that keep rates high and not the Department of Insurance. . . . Automobile accidents last year cost 37,400 lives. . . . In terms of losses paid by insurance companies, the cost ran to more than $425,000,000. . . . When we consider that almost all of these accidents are preventable, everyone of us ought to stop and think about what he or she can do to help. . . . People under 25 are in a position to do more than any other class of drivers to improve our accident record because, unfortunately, they have far more than their fair share of accidents. . . . Several independent studies have shown that young drivers have twice as many fatal accidents, in proportion to their numbers, as do other drivers. . . . In other words, they not only have more smash ups, but they have the worst. . . . That is why there is so much room for improvement. . . . If the accident record of young people were as good as that of their elders. . . . even if no better. . . . many people would live who otherwise will die. . . . and. . . . of course, much money would be saved. . . . Porky's Oilers and the Wildmen collided in Men's Gym last night with the Intramural basketball championship hanging on the outcome. The Oilers entered the title game with a convincing 29-16 win over the Bucket Brigade on Monday. Bob Schnelker fired in 14 points for the winners.

Bill Pearson paced the Wildmen to a 32-19 triumph at the expense of the Zimmer Knights in the other semi-final contest. Both the Wildmen and Oilers sport unblemished records.

Buddahs and Rams advanced to the finals in second place playoffs Monday with victories over East Hall, 21-14, and the Nebs, 45-41, respectively. Keith Bibler potted 19 tallies for the Rams while teammate Dick Zeschke added 13. Neil Minnich scored 12 for the Nebs.

East Hall led the Buddahs at halftime, 7-4, but wilted under a second half charge. The second place final will precede the Oil-Wildmen clash tonight.

In first place playoffs last week, Bucket Brigade engineered one of the tourney's biggest upsets in turning in a 19-15 triumph over Thurstin Hall, which shortly before had received brief respite with their 22-15 decision over the BTO's.

The Wildmen gained the semi-finals as they swung high, wide and handsome in recording a 35-9 victory over the hapless Chain Gang.

With Gordon McQueston netting 13 points, East Hall remained all-powerful in the second place playoffs with a tremendous 41-17 romp over the Rummies. Just a few days before, the Rummies had edged the hard fighting Tip Tops, 35-32 and the Smoes, 35-11. Previously, the Smoes had taken advantage of the WBS's, 25-17.

The Browns continued to set the pace in third place playoffs as they eliminated the Cobb Haulers, 35-31, and the OCB's 40-37.

Hut "H," winner of only two games during regular season play, has sprouted forth with a hot tournament team. They decided the Rangers by a 47-38 count as "Flash" English gathered 25 points. The Daytonians stayed in the running with a 33-19 win over Sigma Psi Omega.

Forfeits featured the "action" in the fourth place tourney. The Hoopsters played the only game of the week and registered a 29-25 decision over the Hangovers. Then the Hoopsters advanced two more steps as they received forfeits from the TKB's and the PVB's, who had earlier won by forfeit from the Dixie Crats. Other "Give-aways" were received by the OCA's and Dixie Crats from the Merry Makers and Alpha Phi Omega, respectively.

Share Leads East Scoring In Garden All-Star Contest

Charlie Share, Bowling Green's all time basketball scorer, capped a brilliant collegiate career Saturday by leading the East team in scoring during the annual All-Star game at Madison Square Garden. Share tallied 14 points, but the Westerners still managed a 66-59 win.

Share was the center in an opening lineup that had Bob Cousy (Holy Cross), Charlie Cooper (Duke), Dick Dickey (No. Carolina State), and Chet Giermak

(William & Mary) as his teammates.

Dick Schnittker, Ohio State's All-American, paced the West, getting 14 points and making the difference in the game with his fine play. Bob Donham, another Ohio Stater, was also in the starting West lineup along with Ralph O'Brien (Butler), Paul Merchant (Oklahoma U), and Yardley (Stanford).

The score at halftime was 30-26 with the West on top. Other stars who performed included Paul Unruh (Bradley), Don Lofgran (San Francisco), Irvin Dambrot (CCNY), Paul Arizin (Villanova), and Hal Haskins (Hamline).

Frosh Cagers End Successful Season

By HANK BUSSEY

Basketball is over for the year and the Jim Whittaker, Vern Dunham coached freshman squad has finished a successful season, showing continued progress and promising a real future for varsity mentor Harold Anderson's 1951 edition.

Jim Gerber, the 6-5 prospect for Andy's sky-high Falcons, starred with Strayer Motors during the Toledo Federation schedule and then moved over to finalist Cliff Nelson Fuels, adding impetus to Toledo's entry in the AAU tourney, and pacing the Coals in their Denver appearances.

The freshmen rang up a record of 26 wins and 7 losses for the season, toppling other Federation members as well as Bliss College, Defiance College (twice), Indiana University Extension (twice), the Giant Hamburger team, DeVilbiss High School of Toledo, and Purdue University Extension (twice).

Early in the season, the frosh split into two entries in the Federation. Strayer Motors represented the 'first teams while the Plantation Inns furnished room for the "seconds."

Jim Whittaker, tutoring the Strayer five, saw his team make it 4-6 in regular season play while adding another three victories in the playoffs. Starting off with only fair acumen, the Motors revved up during the final half to enter the playoffs and continue until they met the seemingly undefeatable Weisenburger Chevrolets (Toledo U. frosh).

The Plantation Inns, Vern Dunham's class in the finer arts of basket-potting, swept through the Southern League of the Federation, winning ten straight games. They tumbled, though, in the playoff opener.

Whittaker gave top rating to Bill Bill Sherin (all 6-10 1/4), 6-5 Jim Gerber, 6-8 Dave Pitts, John Bales, Wally Server, John Myers, Maurice Sandy, Dick Williams, Verle Pitzer, Herb Rostand, Jim Cotter, Bert Reimer, Jim Chubner, Dave Ridgeman, Joe Douglas, Norm Crawford, James Lindsay, Max Green, and Gene Bunger.

The Motors' coach said that Art Fink, who handled the towels and water bottle for the frosh this year, will be promoted to a similar spot with the varsity.

Frosh Trackmen Boast Notable Scholastic Aces

With an eye to the future Coach Dave Matthews called out freshman track candidates recently and discovered several former high school luminaries in the group.

One of the outstanding yearlings is Ollie Kline, pole vaulter from Mansfield. Kline cleared 13 feet in high school and has turned in a 12' effort in an indoor meet so far this year.

Marvin Crosten is an excellent prospect in the distance runs. From Akron North high school, he runs the mile and two mile. He was top man on the frosh cross country squad last fall and consistently placed among the top ten in cross country state meets. He has been timed in 9 minutes 54 seconds in the two mile.

Cotter of Fostoria is one of the top prospects in the 440 yard run. Cotter won the district high school meet here in 1949 with a time of 50.5 seconds. He was also a member of the freshman basketball team this year.

In the field events, Jere Preston from Ft. Wayne, Ind., Northside high has thrown the 16 lb. shot 43'6" in practice. In high school he tossed the 12 lb. shot 52'.

Outstanding among the high jump candidates is Phil Bretelle from Ferndale, Mich. Bretelle bettered 6' in high school and in the Michigan AAU this year he tied for second place with a 6'1 1/2" jump.

JIM GERBER

Grid Team Seeks Scrimmage Dates

Spring football was hampered somewhat last week due to the inclement weather, giving Coach Bob Whittaker little opportunity to evaluate his squad. Friday night footraces were held as Coach Whittaker put the emphasis on speed.

No definite dates have been set for practice games other than those announced for sessions with Detroit University. However, a number of schools have been contacted and final arrangements may soon be announced.

One stumbling block in the way of scrimmage games is Ohio Conference regulations. They may keep some nearby schools from meeting the Falcons in any pre-season engagements.

Flu Cases Decline

The number of flu cases dropped considerably last week, according to Hubert E. Schwartz, general manager of the University Hospital.

DTD's, Wildmen Capture Campus Swimming Titles

Delta Tau Delta copped the fraternity swimming championship and the Wildmen ran off with the intramural title in meet finals held in the Natatorium recently.

In closing the intramural swim season, DTD barely floated past Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 28-27. The Wildmen were easy victors over the MIS, 50-27.

SAE Don Coon and Paul Wisely, of Sigma Nu, turned in the meet's most impressive times. Coon was clocked at 1:03.4 in the 100 yd. freestyle and Wisely completed the 50 yd. breaststroke in 32.8. Richard Smith, DTD, won the 50 yd. freestyle, and Joe Dinella, SAE, placed first in the 50 yd. backstroke. Kappa Sigma garnered the most diving points.

Phi Delta took the 150 yd. medley relay and DTD captured the 200 yd. freestyle relay.

In the intramural division, the Wildmen swept the 200 yd. freestyle relay, 50 yd. backstroke, 50 and 100 yd. freestyles, and the 150 yd. medley relay. The Dixiecrats won the 50 yd. breaststroke. The MIS placed second in most events.

Twenty Complete First Aid Course

Approximately 20 people, including a fireman and a high school coach, took advantage of the Instructor's First Aid Training Course given March 27-31 in the Women's Bldg.

The only prerequisite for the course was an Advanced First Aid Certificate. Credit for the course will be given on teachers' certificates.
